

Which path should I take?

I stare at the road in front of me and wonder which route to take

Winding roads I see ahead important decisions to make

The first sign reads private road, my presence clearly not welcome

Think carefully about the groups you join acceptance sometimes seldom

The next sign reads dual carriageway split friendships may arise

A broken friendship often hurts you'll heal so dry your eyes

The next sign reads approach with caution slippery road ahead some journeys are not sustainable be careful where you tread

The slip road sign reads exit left another route to take

Sometimes your journey will feel alone a decision you'll have to make

The next sign reads tunnel ahead a period of darkness may come don't stay in that place move forward with courage until you drive into the sun

The next sign reads reduce your speed your, moving way too fast

Take some time to think things through So you never regret the past

You'll come to a junction a stop sign there just pause until you can go

Be still sometimes, collect your thoughts so danger you will know

We signpost you at Hollygirt to help you make your choice

We're here to listen and give support as we respect your voice

But take some risks it, s good for growth just stop when you see red

The green light shows your free to go your path will be clear ahead

Ever onward and upward can be your guide to reach your destination

An amazing route that you can take is the route of education.
